

BIRDWATCHING MIGRATION TOUR

Altherr Nature Park 10-11a.m.

Come walk with Katie Smith, local birder, as she helps us identify birds on our nature trails. This is also the perfect time to see migrating birds throughout northern Indiana. During the month of May, we can see a variety of warblers, vireos, orioles, and sparrows. Other notable migrants that might be present include thrushes, tanagers, ruby-throated hummingbirds, indigo buntings, and flycatchers.
